

Ice Resources

The ice industry was a lucrative business because of the high demand for ice, especially in urban areas. The cost of the ice depended on the resources used to produce it. Three different resources were used in the production of ice: natural, capital, and human. Fill in the chart below listing all the ice harvest resources you can think of in their proper category.

Natural Resources	Capital Resources	Human Resources